Resending—this time with Debby's correct email

Gerald and Debby

Thank you for the opportunity to request a meeting with Councilmember Cédillo for a client of the firm John Usdan, CEO of Midwood. Midwood is based in NYC and getting active in LA. John is very interested in a major investment effort in the Westlake area. As you will see from the attached, they have a very impressive track record.

As it turns out John will be in LA on Dec 6th and 7th and is available to meet anywhere, any time. I hope you might be able to find a few minutes.

Please let us know.

Kind regards,

Bill Delvac

Hi Bill -

I apologize for such a late response.

Unfortunately the Member is completely committed at that time.

Perhaps we can find another time in the near future.

Thanks,

Arturo,

Attached is the program for May 5, we would like to know if the Councilman can come and introduce the Secretary. He was a big part of our 2014 trade delegation with the Mayor to Mexico and I think would really enjoy this event.

Today we have to finalize our program book so we need to know if he can participate so we can include him.

Will call you today to discuss.

The Honorable Gil Cedillo

Councilmember

Los Angeles City Council

200 N. Spring St., Room 470

Los Angeles, CA 90012

Dear Councilmember Cedillo,

The Los Angeles Business Council (LABC) is excited to invite you to attend our Congressional Dinner on Tuesday, May 23rd from 7:00PM to 9:30PM at the Occidental Grill & Seafood – 1475 Pennsylvania, Ave., NW, Washington D.C. 20004. As part of the annual ACCESS D.C. trip from May 22-24, the Congressional Dinner is one of our two premier events, in addition to our Special Issues Lunch featuring LA Times D.C. Reporter, Evan Halper, the following day. Our focus this year will be on environmental sustainability, water, energy, housing, transportation and infrastructure issues that are crucial for Los Angeles.

The Congressional Dinner gives LABC members the opportunity to hear from our leaders from Los Angeles and those representing L.A. in the Capitol. Our delegation includes approximately 60 key business, labor, and environmental leaders from Los Angeles. We would be honored if you would join us as a featured guest.

Confirmed guests, to date, include: Congresswoman Maxine Waters, Congresswoman Norma Torres, and Congresswoman Nanette Barragan. Other invited guests include: Senator Dianne Feinstein, Rep. Steve Knight, Rep. Julia Brownley, Rep. Judy Chu, Rep. Adam Schiff, Rep. Tony Cardenas, Rep. Brad Sherman, Rep. Grace Napolitano, Rep. Ted Lieu, Rep. Karen Bass, Rep. Linda Sanchez, Rep. Edward Royce, Rep. Lucille Roybal-Allard, Rep. Alan Lowenthal, as well as your colleagues in the Los Angeles City Council.

We thank you for your consideration and hope you will be able to join us. Please RSVP to Adam Lane at alane@labusinesscouncil.org or via phone at (310) 226-7460. Please let us know if you have any questions.

LABC Institute/USC Report, "The Affordable Housing Crisis in Los Angeles: An Employer Perspective"

1 message

Adam Lane &lt;alane@labusinesscouncil.org&gt;

Wed, May 31, 2017 at 12:47 PM

Good Afternoon,

Please see the below link to the LA Business Council Institute's newest report entitled, "The Affordable Housing Crisis in Los Angeles: An Employer Perspective". The research for this report was conducted by Dr. Raphael W. Bostic who is the Judith and John Bedrosian Chair in Governance and the Public Enterprise in the Price School of Public Policy at the University of Southern California and the incoming President of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta.

Link to Report: http://www.labusinesscouncil.org/files/LABC\_Report-V7-for\_web.pdf

Over a period of six months, Professor Bostic and his team surveyed 14 major employers -- representing over 200,000 employees in the healthcare, education, utilities, engineering and design, law enforcement and government industries -- to get their views on how high costs have affected their ability to attract and retain workers, how their employees are handling the high costs, and their efforts to help alleviate the pressures that arise from living in a region with such high housing costs.

The survey yielded several key findings:

- Employers universally recognized the cost of living is high, but this was a problem not only in attracting workers from outside the region, but retaining existing key employees who are "differentiators" in their business. Employers are most concerned about acquiring leaders and "high performers" who are critical to leading and driving the growth of an organization.
- The high cost of housing has led large percentages of employees to endure long commutes to live in communities that provide quality housing, good schools and high quality of life.
- Supporting the production of workforce housing has proven to be an effective strategy, though few employers will be able to pursue this strategy in a very expensive supply constrained market.

In March, the LABC Institute convened a roundtable discussion of experts to discuss the survey's findings and made recommendations, which include:

- Actively engaging with the planning process to ensure development around transit includes housing at all price points.
- Employers should engage more in the transportation and housing planning process.
- Engaging employer segments and job centers to determine whether there are specific sectors in the region struggling more acutely due to the region's high costs of living and housing.

- Increasing density to offset high costs of land and housing and provide regional transportation connections.
- Designing buildings to adapt to future office needs, accommodate growth and increased density needs, while developing alternative parking solutions that provide flexibility and recognize that transportation patterns will result in major adaptation of parking into uses that include housing, office and retail.

Since releasing the study, we have received outstanding media coverage from several traditional, broadcast, radio and social media outlets, including The LA Times, LA Business Journal, and NBC.

We are grateful to the benefactors of this study and research including: JPMorgan Chase & Co., California Community Foundation, Enterprise Community Partners, Federal Home Loan Bank of San Francisco and Habitat for Humanity, without whom our research would not have been possible.

Thank you and if you would like to discuss this report, please feel free to reach out to the LABC.

Best,

The LABC Team

Arturo,

Mary Leslie and I wanted to see if you would be able to get on a call later today to discuss the linkage fee ordinance. We have been informed that it will be heard jointly by PLUM and Housing on Tuesday and have been requested to take an official LABC position. Before we can do this, we wanted to check in with you and see what is the disposition of the Councilmember's HOUSE LA package, which we strongly supported and also helped craft one of the motions. There were several great strategies in the package that are key to implement before we are able to handle an increased fee on development.

Please let us know if we can discuss with you over the phone today.

Best,

Adam

The Honorable Gil Cedillo

Los Angeles City Council

200 N. Spring Street, Room #460

Los Angeles, CA 90012

Dear Councilmember Cedillo,

On behalf of the Los Angeles Business Council (LABC) and our 2017 luncheon Co-Chairs, Rob Jernigan, FAIA, Gensler, and Nadine Watt, Watt Companies, we would like to invite you to participate in the 47th Annual Los Angeles Architectural Awards luncheon. The LABC looks forward to an exceptional event and have confirmed the Beverly Hilton Hotel for Thursday, June 22nd, 2017 from 11:00 am – 2:00 pm.

Each year, we award approximately 20 design categories to the most outstanding projects over a two-year period. As you know, the Los Angeles Architectural Awards luncheon is one of the most well respected architectural events in Southern California, which is unique in celebrating teams of architects, contractors, developers and building owners for their innovative designs and development.

The event will begin with a pre-luncheon reception and viewing of winning project displays and models. The awards program will begin promptly thereafter. Last year's luncheon was well attended with over 600 guests from the business, government and non-profit communities. Winning projects are featured on the LABC website and receive high coverage across all media platforms in some of the most prominent industry broadcasts and publications, including Archinect, ArchDaily, AIA Architect, Channel 35 CityView, Curbed LA, LAist, KCRW, KPCC and MarketWatch to name a few.

Cobb, FAIA, Founding Partner of Pei Cobb Freed & Partners; and architectural photographer, Julius Shulman.

We would like you to present the Los Angeles and Mexico City Sustainable Real Estate Award to the developers at Marhnos for their Maria Ribera residential project in Mexico City. This award, now in its third year, recognizes a growing alliance in international trade, education and business between LA and Mexico City, and acknowledged years of outstanding sustainability building practices and expertise shared between our two cities. The Association of Real Estate Developers (ADI) chose the Maria Ribera project for its integration of originality, functionality, social impact and architectural achievement.

We look forward to another outstanding event for the 2017 Awards, and we would appreciate a response by Wednesday, June 7th so that we may fully prepare for the event on the 22nd. Please respond to our Event Planner, Kandace London, at klondon@labusinesscouncil.org or by phone at (310) 226-7464. Also, if you have any questions about the event, please reach out to Kandace.

Thank you for your consideration.

Hi Debby,

The presentation of the award will be between 12pm-1pm.

If you are able to participate, we would also like to know if you and your office could provide certificates for the Architectural Award Jury Members and Jury Co-Chairs. This year we assembled three juries – our Design Jury, Shulman Emerging Talent Award Jury and the Community Impact Jury. The work of these juries is crucial to the success of the event and the quality of work submitted. We expect to give out 28 certificates at the event. This is absolutely not linked to your participation, but just in case your office is able to provide certificates, the jury members would be greatly honored.

Thanks,

Kandace

Good Afternoon Debby,

Just wanted to follow up and see if we could confirm the Councilmember for the Architectural Awards. I was at PLUM on Tuesday speaking on behalf of the Councilmember's HOUSE LA motions, but didn't get a chance to say hi to him. We would really be honored if he could attend the Awards.

Also, for the certificates, we provide them for our 28 Architectural Awards Jury members. Would you be okay with providing that amount? I look forward to hearing from you and appreciate all the help.

Thank you,

Adam

Debby,

That is very unfortunate he is not able to make it. I may reach out to you in a couple weeks to see if we can get the Councilmember to participate in our Housing Summit in October and for a favor to book the Tom Bradley Room for our VIP Reception.

As far as the certs, attached is the list of recipients and below is suggested language that is tweaked from what we have used in previous years. Feel free to edit as you see fit.

"On behalf of the City of Los Angeles, I would like to recognize your dedication and relentless efforts to support the Los Angeles Business Council's 47th Annual Los Angeles Architectural Awards.

I greatly celebrate your commitment to making the City of Los Angeles a better place for all Angelenos to live, work and play.

Thank you for designing a better tomorrow."

Thank you for all your help! Please let me know when we should expect to pick these up.

Best,

Each year, we award approximately 20 design categories to the most outstanding projects over a two-year period. As you know, the Los Angeles Architectural Awards luncheon is one of the most well respected architectural events in Southern California, which is unique in celebrating teams of architects, contractors, developers and building owners for their innovative designs and development.

The event will begin with a pre-luncheon reception and viewing of winning project displays and models. The awards program will begin promptly thereafter. Last year's luncheon was well attended with over 600 guests from the business, government and non-profit communities. Winning projects are featured on the LABC website and receive high coverage across all media platforms in some of the most prominent industry broadcasts and publications, including Architect, ArchDaily, AIA Architect, Channel 35 CityView, Curbed LA, LAist, KCRW, KPCC and MarketWatch to name a few.

As you know, past keynote speakers have included: Ma Yansong, founder of MAD Architects; Shigeru Ban, architect and Pritzker Prize winner; Jean Nouvel, architect and Pritzker Prize winner; Scott Johnson, FAIA, Founder and Design Partner of Johnson Fain; Thom Mayne, FAIA, Design Director of Morphosis Architects; Ray Kappe, AIA, Kappe+Du Architects; former Mayor of Los Angeles, Antonio Villaraigosa; Michael Govan, Director of LACMA; Henry N. Cobb, FAIA, Founding Partner of Pei Cobb Freed & Partners; and architectural photographer, Julius Shulman.

We would like you to present the Los Angeles and Mexico City Sustainable Real Estate Award to the developers at Marhnos for their Maria Ribera residential project in Mexico City. This award, now in its third year, recognizes a growing alliance in international trade, education and business between LA and Mexico City, and acknowledged years of outstanding sustainability building practices and expertise shared between our two cities. The Association of Real Estate Developers (AD) chose the Maria Ribera project for its integration of originality, functionality, social impact and architectural achievement.

We look forward to another outstanding event for the 2017 Awards, and we would appreciate a response by Wednesday, June 7th so that we may fully prepare for the event on the 22nd. Please respond to our Event Planner, Kandace London, at klondon@labusinesscouncil.org or by phone at (310) 226-7464. Also, if you have any questions about the event, please reach out to Kandace.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Mary Leslie

The work of these juries is crucial to the success of the event and the quality of work submitted. We expect to give out 28 certificates at the event. This is absolutely not linked to your participation, but just in case your office is able to provide certificates, the jury members would be greatly honored.

Good Morning Debby,

I hope all is well! I wanted to see if we could find a date for Mary Leslie and myself to meet with Councilmember Cedillo for half an hour to discuss pending issues before City Council, including his HOUSE LA package and the linkage fee. We would also like to let him know that we want him to have a key role in our Housing Summit in fall.

Could you please send me some times that would work for the Councilmember in July?

Thank you,

Adam

Debby,

Is there any other time that week that would work? The 14th does not work for the Chairman of our Institute, Brad Cox, and we would like to have him there if possible.

If there is no other time available, Mary Leslie and myself would be able to come on the 14th.

New LABC Institute/UCLA Report, "Housing Pays: Capturing the Economic and Fiscal Benefits of Increased Housing Production in L.A."

2 messages

Adam Lane &lt;alane@labusinesscouncil.org&gt;

Wed, Sep 20, 2017 at 3:25 PM

Good Afternoon,

Please see the below link to the LA Business Council Institute's newest report entitled, "Housing Pays: Capturing the Economic and Fiscal Benefits of Increased Housing Production in L.A.". The report was authored by Paul Habibi of Grayslake Advisors and the UCLA Anderson School of Management.

Link to Full Report: http://labusinesscouncil.org/files/Housing\_Pays\_Final\_Full\_Report.pdf

Housing Pays seeks to demonstrate the fiscal benefit of increased housing production, and how that fiscal surplus can support important city priorities including affordable housing. Using Mayor Garcetti's goal of 100,000 new units by 2021 as a benchmark, the study calculates that new housing production could produce a cumulative net benefit of $583 million over an 8-year period through taxes and fees. This amounts to millions of dollars added to the city's bottom line to support critical services that benefit all Angelenos, including building more desperately needed affordable housing. At the same time, Housing Pays demonstrates what's at stake if housing development slows down. Failure to meet the Mayor's 2021 goal will hit Angelenos with a one-two punch – foregoing vital new housing and losing hundreds of millions of dollars in new revenue that could otherwise be reinvested in new affordable housing construction.

The study makes several recommendations to increase market-rate and affordable housing production, including:

- Streamlining the City's Density Bonus process to encourage increased development of affordable and workforce housing, by shifting from discretionary action to administrative review;
- Streamlining the environmental review process by offering expedited processing of environmental documents, including Environmental Impact Reports, at developer cost;
- Increasing the city's site-plan review threshold to reduce a significant barrier to larger-scale housing developments, which accounted for more than two thirds of all new housing units in 2015;
- Earmarking a portion of new general fund revenues from increased levels of housing production for affordable housing, making the connection between market-rate development and affordable housing clearer than ever.

The study received excellent coverage on several media outlets, including NBC4, KCET, KNX.

Thank you and if you would like to discuss this report, please feel free to reach out to the LABC.

Best,

The LABC Team

Good Afternoon Debby,

I wanted to reach out to you today for the OTHER request the LABC had (thank you for setting the August 28th meeting). Annually, the LABC holds the Mayoral Housing, Transportation and Jobs Summit bringing together over 500 public, private and nonprofit leaders. The night prior we hold our VIP Reception for our program participants, sponsors and special guests to honor distinguished leaders in housing and economic development, which Councilmember Cedillo has participated in. In 2015, we awarded the Councilmember with the Aimco Housing Impact award at the VIP Reception (however, since he was unable to make it, the Mayor accepted on his behalf).

We would be honored if this year Councilmember Cedillo, as Chair of the City Council Housing Committee, would Emcee the LABC Mayoral Housing, Transportation and Jobs Summit VIP Reception on November 2nd at the Tom Bradley Room at City Hall from 5PM to 7PM. Last year our Emcee was California Assembly Speaker Anthony Rendon.

It would also be great if we could receive your assistance in booking the Tom Bradley Room for Thursday, November 2nd. Please let me know if you have any questions and if we could confirm the Councilmember.

Thank you,

Adam

Great news! We will send over any details of the event as they develop. Would it be okay to list him as our confirmed VIP Reception Emcee on promotional materials?

Hi Debby,

We are excited that Councilmember Cedillo will be emceeing our Reception on November 1st.

Can you also please send me a mobile number in case we need to reach you the day of the event, as well as, the names of any staffers that will be attending the event with him.

Thank you,

Kandace

Hi Debby,

I really thought that I would have a script to share with you today. We have a few final edits to make and I can send it your way on Monday for sure. I apologize for any inconvenience this may cause.

Best,

Kandace
